Actor, Hit by Auto, Dies From Injuries

Seven Deaths the Toll of Accidents In and Near New York

Charles H. Patterson, sixty-eight years old, a comedian, died in St. Vincent's Hospital yesterday from injuries received on Saturday night when he was hit by an automobile driven by Raymond Flood, eighteen years old. Several witnesses were examined and night by John T. Doeling, Assiration grand larceny. The car belonged to District Attorney, in an effort to be Edgar Lynn, of 141 West Eleventh more concerning the death of the Street. The accident occurred at Sarah Ann Stiassny, of 215 West No. Eighth Avenue and Horatio Street. ty-eighth Street. Patterson's home was at 346 West The most important discovery

Lydia Gotzmann, of Morris Park, Queens, another occupant of the car, was taken to the hospital in Mineola. Minnie Flynn, a maid employed in Westbury, was killed as she rode a bicycle along Stiassny and her nephew. He will be the stimulation of the strength of the young woman.

Selling to Soldiers, Tried

Henry Steinmann, proprietor of a saloon at 95 Greenpoint Avenue. Woodside, Queens, was shot in the left hip last night by Lieutenant Charles W. Prim, of the 162d Infantry, attached to the military police of Camp Mills. Lieutenant Prim had gone to Steinmann's place to arrest the proprietor on a charge of selling liquor to soldiers.

The saloon was closed, and Steinmann, coatless, came outside at the soldier's summons. When told he was under arrest he asked permission to return for his coat. The lieutenant refused permission. Steinmann sent one of his family in after the coat, and then, according to Lieutenant Prim, broke away and tried to escape. The officer brought him down with a shot.

Steinmann was taken to St. John's Hospital, Long Island City. His wound is not serious. He is a prisoner, charged with violation of the Federal law forbidding the sale of liquor to soldiers.

Mrs. Slater's Assailant

BOSTON, Nov. 11 .- The youth who yesterday shot Emil Knabe, butler for Mrs. Horatio N. Slater, prominent in ord from the Weather Bureau shows temper society and charitable work, in an alleged attempt to kill Mrs. Slater, was the tool of blackmailers, police de-clared to-day. They say they have ob-tained letters demanding money from Mrs. Slater and threatening her with Mrs. Slater and threatening her with death.

The prisoner, who says he is Harry Bass, of 14 Chambers Street, New York, is characterized as an idealist who would easily become the tool of others. He will be arraigned in the Juvenile Court to-morrow.

Knabe is in the City Hospital, hovering between life and death.

Bass, when arrested, told the police he was twenty-two years old. To-day he admitted he was only sixteen. He said he did not intend to shoot Knabe but expressed regret he had not killed Mrs. Slater, and declared that the electric chair had no terror for him.

Radical literature was found in his possession, and he boasted that his ideals were contained in the writings of Emma Goldman and Alexander Berk.
